We of Morris Harvey College recognize that death has taken from us one of our most loyal friends and co-workers. It is with both sorrow over our loss and appreciation for the fine qualities he possessed that we now pause in memory of Henry Bartlett Martz.

We remember Mr. Martz as a man possessing six outstanding characteristics, namely, a never-ending willingness to work, versatility, patience, friendliness, loyalty and a deep devotion to God and mankind. Our memory of him cannot be expressed, however, by merely listing personal traits, for this man was a very real part of the life of our campus. We scarcely can pass a day without reflecting with sadness upon the fact that a certain office is dark and a familiar smile is absent from the hallways.

A friendly greeting or a jovial remark was forthcoming wherever one happened to meet Mr. Martz—at college socials, at basketball games, at concerts in the auditoriums or in any one of the many groups that gathered to talk over problems of the day. His loyalty to duty in the service of the College was manifested in his every action.

We remember him as one who undertook every job with the calm assurance that it could be done; who never said "no" when requested to help in any work situation, and who successfully organized small or large groups to work on college or community projects.

A man of rare self-control, Mr. Martz was calm and agreeable, even when the pressure of his varied and multiple duties bore heavily upon him. He always had time to give a sympathetic hearing to a student's problems and to help him arrive at a happy solution.

A kind, understanding father and diligent worker in his church, this man personified the traits which go into the making of a great institution. While his presence in our midst is now of the past, there shall ever be before us reminders of the part that Henry Bartlett Martz played in our common striving for a greater, better Morris Harvey College.

Again—a school year ends. For a few it has been an unhappy year, but for most it has been an experience which we will never forget.

All of us, however, have shared in the most important part of the life of Morris Harvey College. During the last two years, Morris Harvey has undergone the turning point of its existence, and for the first time in a good many years, the Seniors, as they pass through its corridors for the last time, are assured there will always be a Morris Harvey College to “come home to.”

Within a short time the disappointments in college life will be forgotten, and as we look back—we’ll have to admit it has all been—

Dedication

To the Seniors—who are attending Morris Harvey College for the last time—who will go out into the world representing their Alma Mater—we dedicate this yearbook.

We sincerely hope we have recaptured all the important events of the year within these covers, so that in years to come, you, the Seniors, may glance through these pages with fond remembrances.

So long—Good luck—and God's speed.

This year marked the 27th Anniversary of the Alpha Mu Sorority, the oldest sorority on the Morris Harvey campus. The sorority was organized October 14, 1925, to promote friendly social relations on the campus, as well as to develop character and personality within the sorority.

An active organization on campus, members were well represented in the Junior and Senior class, Student Council, Wesley Foundation, I.B.C., the Comet staff, W.A.A., American Academy of Science, Chi Beta Chi, and "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities."

Many activities were held during the year, including a birthday celebration to which all students and faculty were invited, a Christmas tea given by the alumna, a Christmas dinner dance, the annual Fashion Tea, Rush Party, and Pledge Service.

Outstanding on the list of social activities for the sorority were the Spring Formal and the Sweetheart Swing.

This year the Alpha Mu Sorority received the scholastic award for maintaining the highest scholastic average among the Greek organizations.

The Sigma Delta Phi fraternity was organized in the Fall of 1949 with Twenty charter members. However, the Sigma Dels have grown to be the largest active Greek letter organization on the campus.

The purpose of the group is to seek companionship, unity of purpose and to abide by the six cardinal principles of the chapter. Through the foresightness of high morals, leadership and devotion to their college, this fraternity placed more officers in student organizations than any other Greek letter organization for the period of 1950-53.

With the colors of Scarlet and Grey in front of them the "brothers" have made great success of their social activities with the Plymouth Rock dance, Thanksgiving; the Spring Swing, March 27, and placed them among the top for the year. In the competition for Intramural sports for 1952 the Sigma Dels were runner-up. In the 1953 competition, victory was seen for them by winning first place in football and basketball.

The membership of active members recorded on February 28, 1953, was forty-three active members.

The Scarlet and Grey brothers strive to assist the college and the community and have been instrumental in the success of many college projects.

Members who were absent when pictures were taken include: Robert Baker, Joseph Bartges, George Buttrick, Robert Carter, Jr., Robert Fitzwater, Wiley Bruce Peck, Jr., Robert Samples, Robert Spenik, and Robert Thomas.

Spring pledges are: John Cooke, Robert Johnson, Victor Asseff, Charles Cook, Roy Cataldo, Donald Angelo, Sherman King, Jr., Ben Brown, Jude Whelan, Jim Gilligan, Anthony Lombardo, and John Boggess.

The purpose of Sigma Iota Chi is to aid the social growth and character development of its members. To be eligible for membership it is necessary to meet all national requirements as well as local Panhellenic Council.

A tea for all women of the college, rush parties, rituals and a Spring formal are annual affairs. This year's activities were highlighted by Beta Nu chapter being hostess for the biennial convention held in Charleston.

Beta Nu Chapter is sponsored by Mrs. W. H. Walker and the patronesses are: Mrs. C. E. King, Mrs. A. E. Bennett, Mrs. E. W. Ockerman, Mrs. W. W. Reynolds and Mrs. C. Frank LePage.

The Mu Chapter of the Zeta Mu Epsilon was formally installed at Morris Harvey April 8, 1948, by Mrs. Rush D. Holt, Grand National President of the sorority. It's the youngest sorority on the Morris Harvey campus.

Zeta Mu's are active in the Future Business Leaders of America, Future Teachers of America, Newman Club and Blackfriars.

The highlight of this year's social events was the Annual Tea held at the home of the past president, Mrs. Betty Truitt Cummings. In the Spring, a going away party was given in honor of Mrs. Cummings, who is leaving for Japan in the near future to join her husband, Captain John Cummings, United States Army.

Mrs. Maude Cammack, Morris Harvey English instructor, is sponsor of the sorority. Patronesses are Mrs. John Lambros, Mrs. Jo Fink, Mrs. C. J. Harris, Mrs. William Morlang, and Mrs. James G. Vandergrift.

Academy of Science

The West Virginia Collegiate Academy of Science is the college level of the National Academy of Science. Membership is open to all students interested in science. Officers for the year were Bill Johnson, president; Don Peterson, vice-president; Jean Ann Koch, secretary-treasurer.

Several interesting meetings were held during the year. At one of these, John Norvell gave a talk entitled, "Is There Life on Other Worlds?" and at another a Charleston veterinarian, Edwin J. Kersting, spoke to the group.

Those absent when picture was taken include: Jim Ellars, Jean Ann Koch, Don Peterson, Roger Kiser, John Sullivan, Robert Swarbrick, Paul Trotter, and Mrs. Mary Roberts.

The Blackfriars began their 1952-53 season on March 24 with a one-act play to raise funds for the Family Service. Approximately one month later the campus troupers went on tour when they presented the "Bachelor and the Flirt," a one-act play written by Morris Harvey's own Oliver Shurtleff, the organization's faculty advisor, at West Virginia Tech and at a Drama Festival at Kent State University, Kent, Ohio.

The climax of the season came with the presentation of William Saroyan's famous one-acter, "Hello, Out There," during an assembly program in the college auditorium. The latter play was directed by Wade Williams, director of the Kanawha Players.

Blackfriars

The Comet, under the guidance of Editor Richard Carpenter, Business Manager Henry Mullins, and Faculty Advisor James H. Herring, accomplished more in 1952-53 than have Comets in past years.

Accomplishments were made in these fields:
1—The Comet sponsored four events; 2—Many new features were introduced into The Comet; 3—Outstanding innovations in technical aspects took place.

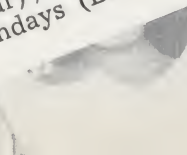

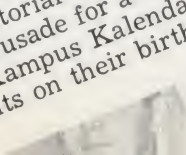

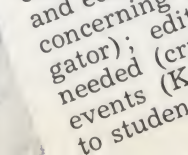

A Miss Comet and a Mr. Comet were named by the student paper staff from candidates selected by beautiful Elaine Culpepper and handsome Ben Brown.

The campus journalistic enterprise sponsored a "Pretty Baby" contest in which the editor, Nancy Dixon, Dave Freeman, and Joan Roush were judged the winners.

All-Intramural touch football and basketball teams were chosen, under the sponsorship of The Comet.

Aiding in these programs and in the complete Comet news coverage were staff members Bob Turley, associate editor; Ben Brown, sports editor; Betty Hedrick, feature editor; and reporters Libby Cline, Al Waslohn, Henry Balser, Eddie Chester, Jean Par-kins, Billie Davis, Charlie Lucas, Ronald Johnson, Dolores Shank, Barbara Koontz, Bill Crumb, Joan Mendel, Betty Truitt Cummings, Bob Baker, as well as contributors from all student organizations.

Among the many new features seen for the first time during the newspaper's thirty-first year, the more significant were the articles written by successful men in different fields on their vocation; a column reporting the society news among the coeds and eds; a column that felt the pulsebeat of students concerning topics of campus interest (The Interrogator); editorial expression that spoke out when needed (Kampus Kalendar); and birthday greetings to students on their birthdays (Birthday Bouquets).

"We did it!" Those are our final words.

But as we look back, we wonder how we did it. As most of the student body knows, there was a question as to whether or not we would have a 1953 Harveyan. The final decision came—needless to say it was pro—a few weeks before the final deadline for all copy to be in the printer's hands.

Caught unaware, because after looking at our bank account, we were positive there would not be a Harveyan published, we went "nuts" trying to get things in shape.

"We did it!"

Here it is, and we hope you like it.

Bill Keenan was the editor who seemingly didn't worry about meeting our deadline—in fact, he was so calm he took several of his usual vacations in between times, and there is John Sullivan, who should receive a bushel of roses for his photography and work the editor was too lazy to do.

Special thanks should go to Bob Swoope. If it were not for Bob, this publication would not have been possible. With the help of his crew, Freda Simons and Jim Krantz, he sold enough advertising to put us over the top and, in doing so, saved the Harveyan.

We would also like to thank George G. Lazenby, our faculty advisor, who went beyond his official capacity by rolling up his sleeves and going to work along with us.

Roses should also go to Richard Carpenter, sports editor, Jerry Shipley, Frances Harry, and many others whose names we cannot include in this small space.

"We did it!"

Chi Beta Phi

The Epsilon Chapter of Chi Beta Phi consists of men and women. It was installed in Morris Harvey on May 19, 1923, as a chapter for men, but, on April 12, 1946, Epsilon Sigma Chapter which had operated successfully as a chapter for women since March 31, 1939, merged with the older chapter. The aims of the fraternity are to foster interest in science and to stimulate proficiency in science courses. To be eligible for membership, a student must have completed satisfactorily 20 semester hours in the natural sciences and mathematics and be enrolled in additional courses in these departments, or he must have completed more than 20 semester hours. The Chi Beta Phi Science Medal is presented by the chapter each year.

On the Gridiron

BANG! The game was over. The stunned behemoths of Marshall College could hardly believe that those upstarts from Morris Harvey College had turned the tables, 14-13, that memorable evening of October 11, 1952. It was only the fourth win for the Golden Eagles in a rivalry that started almost half a century ago.

The troupers of Gene Gurtis, Joe Bartges, Roy Brown, Tom Miller and Co. had presented the greatest stage production of their life, and a deliriously-happy student following showed their appreciation at a Victory assembly the following Monday. Gurtis and Brown tallied the touchdowns, and freshman Gene Hamric booted the deciding extra points.

This contest was the highlight of the season for Eddie King and his "Thespians of the gridiron", who had six hits and three flops in theater vernacular. Theater players from the state of Ohio (Wittenberg, Ohio U., Heidelberg) were the only aggregations to outshine the MH contingent on the football field, copping 27-13, 20-6, and 12-0 decisions that could have, with a few breaks, gone into the MH win column. Otherwise, the "football Blackfriars" of MHC beat Davis and Elkins, 7-6, at Elkins; Marshall, 14-13, in Huntington; West Liberty, 39-6, in Charleston; W. Va. Tech, 28-6, at home; Salem in the Capital City, 41-0; and Appalachian in Boone, N. C., 34-13.

Individually, Gene Gurtis, senior halfback; James "Jabo" Dyer, Sr. center and linebacker; and Roy Brown, TD-scoring end, made the West Virginia Intercollegiate All-Conference team. Other graduating seniors were Carl "Doc" Young, a tough guard in the Golden Eagle forward wall; Joe Bartges, field general and passer at the quarterback position; and Don Loy, a rugged end in the MH defensive platoon.

Over thirty freshmen bolstered MHC throughout the year and gave promise for years to come. Among the newcomers, Bob Maxwell, ball-handling magician who hails from Dunbar; Herb Fitzsimmons, Jack Lawhorn, and Boyce Jarrett, products of the powerful Stonewall Jackson high school footballers; and Buz Rowsey and Gene Hamric of Charleston High School were a few local standouts from the freshman corps.

Springfield, Ohio was the scene of the season's opener for the Golden Eagles as Bob Fetty and Roy Brown raced to paydirt for the West Virginians in the game's initial and final counters, but the Fighting Lutherans did all their scoring in between in triumphing, 27-13.

Gene "Cotton" Gurtis, the Pennsylvania speedster, drove to the first score of the contest with Ohio U., but the Bobcats of Athens had too many guns and won, 20-6.

Bobby Marra, the Shinnston halfback of all-state fame, weaved and wheeled through practically the entire Senator eleven at Davis-Elkins. Marra's fancy footwork and beautiful blocking tallied the only Morris Harvey six-pointer against D-E that won for the Golden Eagles, with the assistance of Gene Hamric's extra point conversion.

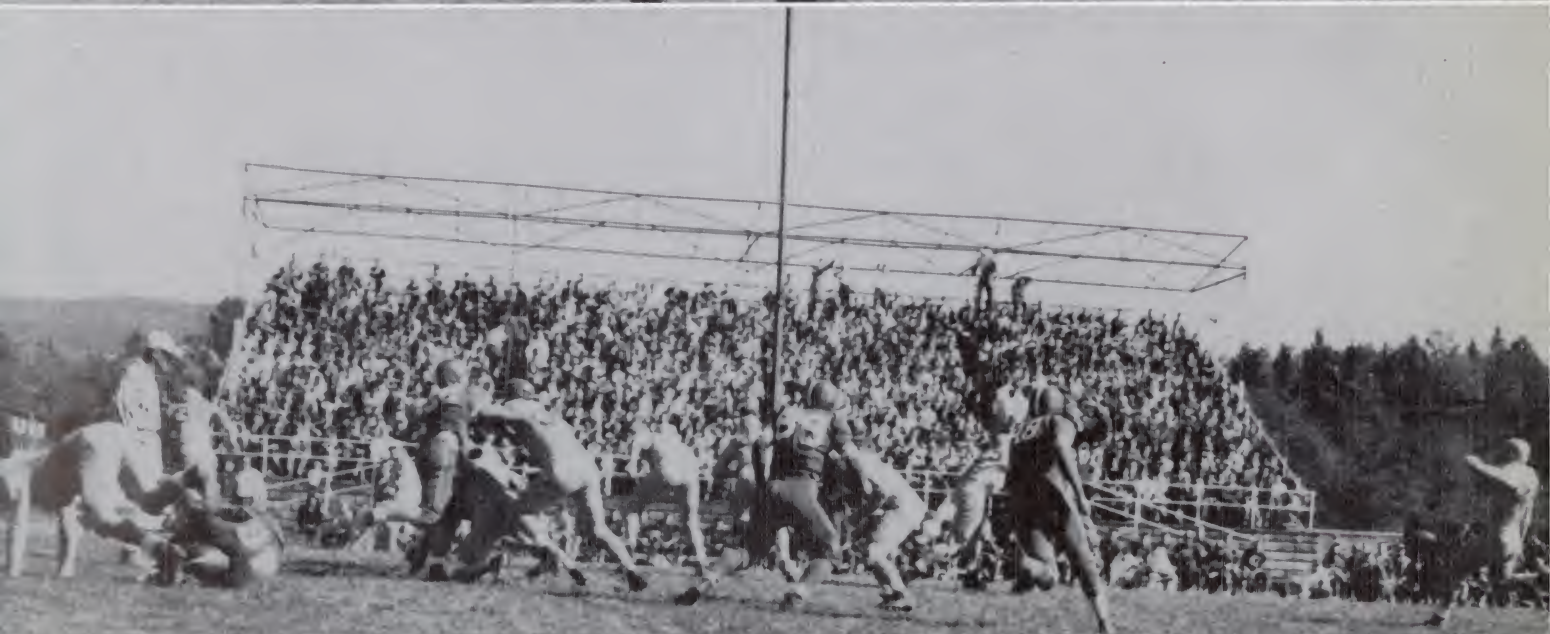

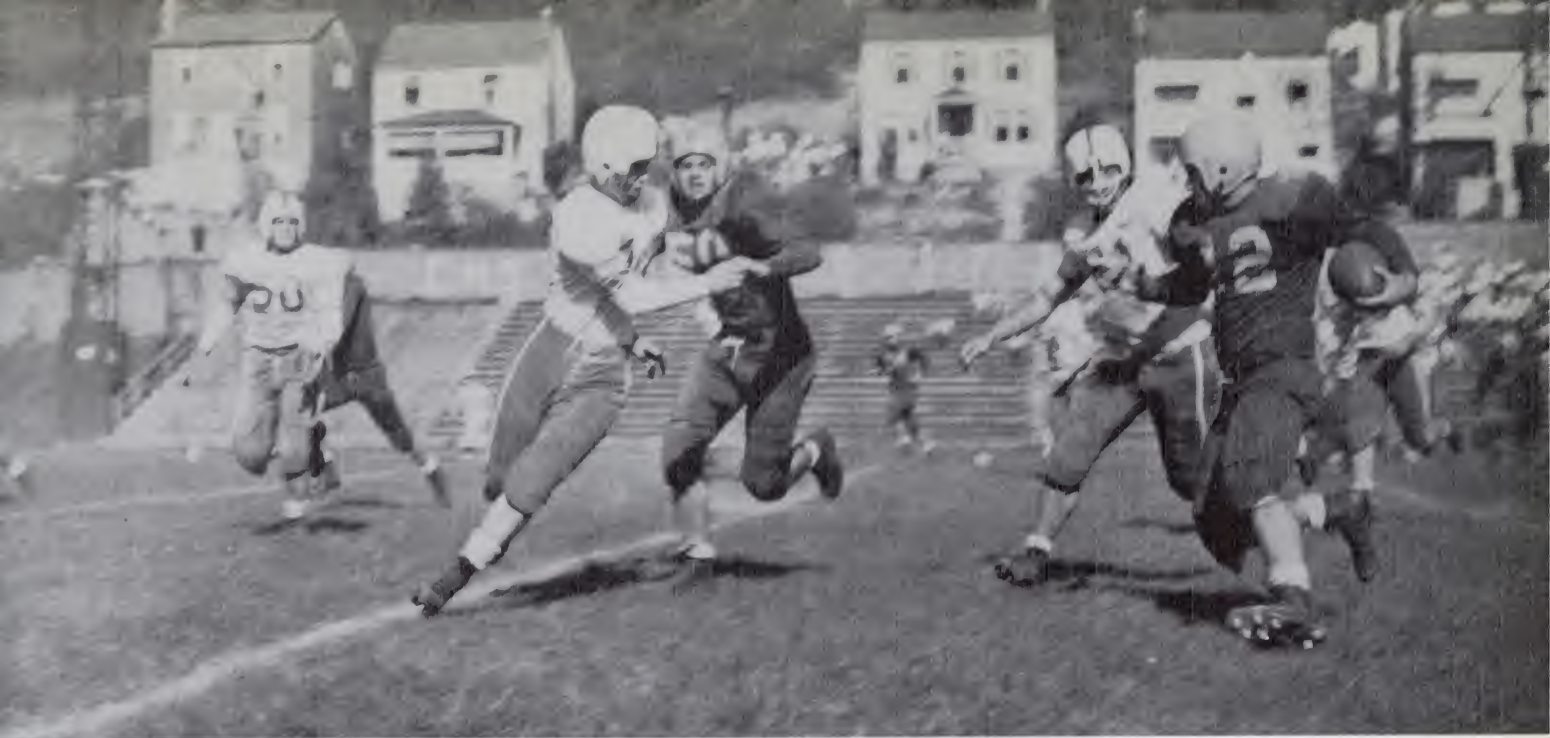

Led by Gurtis' 24 points against W. Liberty's Hilltoppers, MHC trounced the northern panhandle eleven, 39-6, as Brown and Jim Carr added other TD's in the October Homecoming game.

On the strength of Bob Fetty's three gallops into the enemy end-zone and Joe Bartges' 2-yard drive, Morris Harvey downed arch-rival, W. Va. Tech, 28-6, at Laidley Field October 24.

Salem's Tigers were no match for MH in the last game in Charleston as Gurtis (12 points), Miller (12), Brown (6), and Jim Stec (6) paced the "Kingmen" to their fourth WVIC conquest of the season. Although undefeated in the state, the Eagles failed to capture the state championship, playing one less game than the victor, Fairmont State.

The "Golden Birds" traveled to North Carolina to bring the curtain down on another successful campaign, rolling over Appalachian, 34-13. Gurtis, 2 TD's; Fetty, Bartges, and Miller, the starting backfield, all scored in the campaign finals. Thus ended another banner autumnal athletic venture for Morris Harvey College.

And the upset of them all

On the Court

Kansas City and the National Small College Basketball Tournament was the grand climax for Morris Harvey's cagers after a mid-season series of injuries had sent the Golden Eagles into a losing tailspin, that knocked them from undisputed first-place in the State Conference to fifth place.

Battling uphill, the Eagles fought back to first place when they defeated W. Va. Tech, 75-73, in Montgomery in the last week of the season. Coach Eddie King masterminded this comeback, despite the absence of Ace Ralph Kryzak, by manipulating ten men throughout each contest.

Tying Tech for the state crown with a record of 15-5, the Eagles then won the conference tournament in Buckhannon, and finally won two games in the District 28 playoff to go to the NAIA tourney. Unfortunately, the Eagles lost the first round in Kansas City to Eastern Illinois State, 84-67.

Student Teachers

The End

Whimsical as it may sound, we, the Harveyan Staff, have had a pretty rough time this year; but with a lot of assistance from the student body, we have been able to publish this 1953 Yearbook. We say in all sincerity we appreciate the interest the students and advertisers have shown during the past season.

Our advertisers have given wonderful cooperation and are certainly worthy of your support. After all, they—not us, are responsible for the success of this Yearbook.
